Map Errors Are Confusing

By Barbara Westcott

People who have just moved to Andover may be understandably puzzled about finding their way around town, and so may some older residents who have purchased a map to locate the newer streets.

According to the current map obtainable at the town clerk's office, Suncrest rd. has moved south quite a way on Rt. 28 to shoulder Fieldstones Restaurant out of existence, and St. Augustine dr. takes up the entire length of School st., at least on the south side.

Another queer thing is Old South ln., which seems to have two positions - one running off Central st. and another as an extension of Lupine rd., following the river. It is curious, too, that Old County rd.

Selectmen Allow Sunday Dancing

The first Sunday dancing permit was issued by the Selectmen Monday night, on a 3-2 vote of the members.

Chairman James D. Wilson, voting in the affirmative, broke a tie among his colleagues. Members Philip K. Allen and Paul W. Cronin favored the permit; Selectmen Robert A. Watters and William Stewart were opposed.

The Indian Ridge Country Club requested permission for guests to dance after a member-guest barbecue Sunday, Aug. 25. The police department gave its approval.

Town Clerk Irving O. Piper read applicable sections of a 1962 statute, which makes it permissible to dance on Sunday, under certain conditions. He also noted that the Commissioner of Public Safety, Frank S. Giles, must also

Kuwait Visitor Is Incredulous

By Joan Haggerty

"You have to pay for an automobile license? You have to pay taxes to run your schools?"

"These are some of the incredulous questions asked by Saoud Al Abhool, a visitor in Andover from the New Jersey-sized sheikhdom of Kuwait, where such dreadful conditions are unheard of. Kuwait derives $1,125,000 dollars a day from oil revenues, and Sheikh Abdullah al Sabah spends all of it to develop his small country, and has much less difficulty balancing his budget than we do.

Since the University of Kuwait is not ready to provide college-level training, Saoud and 50 other young men arrived in this country last month to spend from four to 10 years each, finishing their education. Although, like many other students, he has travelled through the Middle East in recent years, the United States has already furnished him with many surprises. In his country, as in most of the Arab states, boys and Thomas J. Connolly, superintendent of mails in the local Post Office since 1958, has been named assistant postmaster.

Postmaster Francis J. Mooney announced his appointment, effective Aug. 17. The Post Office Department confirmed Mr. Mooney's recommendation late last week.

Mr. Connolly - highest ranking supervisor at the Post Office - was named a sub-carrier by Postmaster John H. McDonald Feb. 9, 1937. He was promoted to superintendent of mails Dec. 13, 1958, by Postmaster Stephen A. Boland.

Born Aug. 12, 1915, Mr. Connolly came to Andover from Brooklyn, N. Y., at an early age. He attended local schools, and graduated from Punchard High School with the class of 1933.

He served in the Army from June 9, 1943 to Dec. 21, 1945. During his service in the European Theatre, he received five battle stars.

Mr. Connolly has long been active in the Boy Scouts of America, has worked in the Little League, the Junior Baseball League and with the Pee Wee Football League.

Playground supervisor George Snyder announced the awards.

THE DIFFICULTY WAS INSOLUBLE

The Townsman regrets that its press schedule did not permit coverage of the special town meeting held last night at Memorial Auditorium.

Every conceivable rearrangement of schedules was tentatively worked out, but none could be utilized, and still maintain our normal Thursday morning delivery.

The meeting will be covered in next week's issue.

Study To Get Started

Five sub-committees have been appointed to begin studying departments, as part of the Study Committee's efforts to determine how well the town manager charter has been implemented.

A meeting Tuesday night, during which the charter was read and discussed, resulted in focusing attention on several areas which might also be studied.

The Committee named the following smaller groups, to begin the second stage of the work: Recreation Department - Stafford Lindsay, chairman; Alan F. Dunlop and Aime G. Nadeau.

Central purchasing - Harold Cookson, chairman; Miss Marion Hill and Raymond LaRosa.

Capital expenditures and master plan - Howell Stillman, chairman; Robert Neikirk and Mrs. George Laaff.

Board Names Retail Group

John Zenevitch, manager of Macartney's of Andover, will act as chairman of the Andover Board of Trade's Retail Committee. It was announced today by President Robert Phinney.

The Retail Committee consists of seven retail members who are responsible for planning and conducting the retail activities and promotions sponsored by the ABT. The committee will meet on Thursday morning, Aug. 15, to begin planning for the 1963-'64 ABT business year.

"The Retail Committee has been asked to prepare a program for the next 12 months and to present this program to the retail members in the form of a 'retail calendar,'" Pres. Phinney stated.

Robert Chase, controller at the Merrimack Valley National Bank, was re-named chairman of the Christmas Lights Committee, according to Pres. Phinney. "In view of the outstanding job Mr. Chase did last year in supervising the purchase of new Christmas decorations for Andover, I am extremely pleased that he has consented to act as chairman of this important committee for another year," Phinney said.

The ABT plans to add additional street streamers to the Christmas display to give Main st. a more uniform appearance this year. The members of this committee have not yet been named.

Serving on the Retail Committee with Mr. Zenevitch are Kenneth P. Thompson, Robert Reddish, R. Milton Cole, Stanley Swanton, Richard Trull and Samuel Osgood.

 and Gerald M. Lewis.
 Review - Henry F. Wolfson,
 Eugene Bernardin Jr., Victor Mill
 Jr. and the chairman, Harris N.
 Sanfilippo.

 The latter committee will review the findings of the various sub-committees, and areas of the charter not yet assigned for study.
 It is expected that the subcommittees will begin reporting
 the week after Labor Day.

 During the session Tuesday night, the chairman re-emphasized the duty of the Committee - to answer the question "Is the charter doing what it was intended to do?" He stressed the importance of making a candid report, based on study and analysis of the present form of government.

 "We should pursue the study objectively and diligently", he told his colleagues.

 But he warned that there will be "no witch hunt". He explained that the competency of any employee is not subject to committee report - this comes under the person's immediate superior, and should be handled in the normal manner.

 "We are not dealing with personalities, but with functions", he asserted.

 As the Committee went through the charter, some areas were noted, for further scrutiny. These included the appointing powers of the Selectmen and of the manager and how they are inter-dependent.

 The terms of appointed boards and their duties also were singled out for closer examination.

 Section 10 of the charter apparently will get the closest attention of all. Among its many sub-paragraphs are those concerned with the manager's powers and duties: transfer of departmental functions, transfer of funds, records and reports of the manager, supervision of boards and committees appointed by the manager responsibility of the manager in the "improvement" of school buildings and central purchasing.

 The approval of warrants and how bills are being paid will also be studied. Also noted, for later examination, is the requirement on presenting a detailed budget by Dec. 1.

Girls attend separate schools from the age of seven, and the place of all but a few women is very much in the home. Consequently, he is constantly surprised at some of the things they do in our society. Almost all of them drive cars? They hold public office? They serve as police officers, judges, they teach boys classes? Incredible! In Kuwait, nothing grows in the way of plant life, except a few date trees, and all fruits and vegetables must be imported, so Saoud has been faced with a bewildering assortment of new things to eat. Oranges, bananas, and apples are as familiar to him as to us, but lettuce, summer squash, and corn—the cob were all brand new experiences. Most milk in Kuwait comes from goats, so the cows were looked at strange as camels might to us. He had already been introduced to ice cream, and rare is the time when he cannot find room for just a small helping. But Saoud has no taste for the milk we drink in such quantity. The goats milk he has known is used to make butter, and he has grown up on the buttermilk which is the by-product. He was delighted to find we had buttermilk, too, and says it is "almost as good". But his favorite drink is hot tea, and he likes several cups with every meal, breakfast included, and it takes two or three spoons of sugar to make it "just right". Our coffee is not his favorite, but when one of his friends served Arabian coffee to him and to his host family, it was served in very small cups, not bigger than an eggshell, and even these were filled only a third full, while the coffee itself was strongly flavored with cardamom. It is the Kuwait custom to serve fresh dates with this, and it is polite to drink several cups, shaking your empty cup to show that you have had enough.

Some of his new friends in Andover have taken him to try miniature golf, and bowling, and these are difficult to describe in his letters back home. There will be many new things to write home about in the months ahead, for Saoud has been accepted at the Cambridge School in Weston, for his fourth year of preparatory school, and will go on from there to a college or university in the United States for a degree in petro-chemistry. He hopes to get home for a visit two years from now, but in the meantime there is much to see, do and learn. High on the priority list is a drive-in movie, which seems simple and every day stuff to us, but is something of a mystery to Saoud, who has seen all his movies indoors. He is anxious to try many of our other leisure activities too, but has some favorites of his own. He is an avid "shutter-bug", and almost never goes out without his camera. He also likes music, with a strong preference yet for his own Middle East variety. Anyone have any good new Arabian "platters"? And what has Saoud enjoyed most so far in his stay here? A chance to get together with some of his Kuwaiti friends to talk about these strange Americans! Saoud is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Sweet of Stinson rd. His visit was arranged by the "Experiment in International Living" in Putney, Vt.

League Busy In Behalf Of Meeting

The League of Women Voters was specially active, through its Voter Service Committee, in getting information to the voters on the sewer project, and in raising interest in attending the town meeting last night.

Mrs. George Edmonds is chairman for Voter Service.

Preparation of a fact sheet, detailing costs and betterment assessments, was in the hands of the following committee: Mrs. Douglas Dunbar, Mrs. Paul Herbert, Mrs. Donald Sagaser, Mrs. Jack Kyger, Mrs. John Holmes and Mrs. James Wilson.

Handling preparation of posters, urging attendance at the special meeting, were Mrs. Charles Leigh, chairman; Mrs. William Ash, Mrs. Robert Demrow, Mrs. Thomas Lamson, Mrs. Robert Sherman, Mrs. Howard Hamilton and Mrs. William McClintock.

Arrangements for a cavalcade through the town yesterday, to stimulate interest in the meeting, were in the hands of the following League members: Mrs. R. Milton Cole, chairman; Mrs. Munro Leaf, Mrs. Paul Crane, Mrs. Frederick Peterson, Mrs. Dunbar, Mrs. Sherman, Mrs. Robert Gaynor, Mrs. Gerry Lebach and Mrs. William Van N. Washburn.

Set Fees For Pit Inspections

The fall series of gravel pit hearings starts Sept. 9, when seven legal hearings will be held by the Selectmen.

And by that time, new inspection fees will be put into effect. All gravel pit owners will be notified of the fees, when they are reminded to request their public hearing for renewal of their permits.

The town will annually charge $10, plus $1 for each thousand dollars in the bond. The amount of the bond is set by the Selectmen, based on the size of the pit and the complexity of the work required to return it to acceptable shape after excavation is finished.

Selectman William Stewart also asked that inspections be finished on the pits for which hearings will be held Sept. 9. The building inspector does this work for the town, and will also be present at the meetings to answer any questions.

Mr. Stewart noted that he has been doing some inspections on his own, and wants to see whether Inspector Arthur Peatman's reports coincide with his own findings.

Legal advertisements in this week's issue spell out the times of the hearings and the applicants.

Some people are hesitant to walk into a business school to look around. They feel they might interrupt classes or be obligated in some way. So, we have set aside two weekends for you to visit the most modern business school in New England.

You will see 8 beautiful classrooms and facilities designed and executed by Mr. C. Lincoln Giles. You can learn about our Secretarial, Business Administration and IBM programs. And, if you were planning to attend any of our courses this fall, days, evenings, or Saturdays, you may enroll at this time.

Bring your friends, family or other guests and enjoy coffee with us. We look forward to seeing you.

Obituaries . . .

JOHN K. HILL

John K. Hill, 64, of Hopkinton, N.H., died unexpectedly Aug. 6 at Concord Hospital, Concord, N.H.

Mr. Hill was born in Boston, and had been a long time resident of Andover until moving to the New Hampshire community about a year and a half ago. Before his retirement in Jan. 1962, he was employed for several years as a custodian in the public school system here. Prior to this, Mr. Hill had been affiliated with the Federal Reserve Clearing House, Boston, and later was employed as a bookkeeper in the comptroller's office of the American Woolen Co. in Boston.

In former years, he had been a well known soloist and served for more than eight years as tenor soloist at Park Street Church, Boston, and had been a soloist at the then Church of the Good Shepherd in Lawrence. He had also been a member of a theatrical group. While living in Andover he had attended Christ Episcopal Church.

He leaves his wife, Marguerite L. (O'Brien) Hill; a daughter, Barbara, wife of Percy A. Wilson of Hopkinton, N.H.; a son, John K. Hill Jr., of Hampstead, N.H.; a brother, Edmund of Andover; two sisters, Charlotte M., and Isabel G. Hill, both of Andover also five grandchildren.

The funeral was held Friday, Aug. 9, with services at 11 a.m. at the Lundgren Funeral Home. The Rev. D. Frank Hayden, assistant at Christ Episcopal Church officiated. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

ANDREW J. BROOKOVER
Andrew Jackson Brookover, 61, 12 Lincoln st., died Thursday evening, Aug. 8, at Lawrence General Hospital after a long illness.

A native of Chicago, Ill., Mr. Brookover resided for many years in Pennsylvania before moving to Andover nine years ago. He was a consultant to paper manufacturers before his retirement. He was a member of Salem Street P.M. church and was affiliated with the Lions Club, Gideon Society and Christian Men's Business Association of Downingtown, Pa.

Surviving are his wife, the former Winifred McNeill; a daughter, Mrs. Lillian Inglis of Canfield, Ohio; a son, Andrew J. Brookover Jr., of Summit Hill, Pa.; three brothers, Thomas and Robert of Pennsylvania, and John of Framingham; also seven grandchildren.

Private funeral and burial services were held in Downingtown, Pa.

WILLIAM M. TAYLOR

William M. Taylor, 93, 26 Birchwood rd., Methuen, died Saturday, Aug. 10, at Bon Secours Hospital, following a long illness.

Mr. Taylor was born in Dexter, Me., and had lived here for many years, prior to moving to Methuen 10 years ago. Before his retirement in 1950, he had been employed for 32 years as a boss weaver at the Marland Mills.

He was a member of Christ Episcopal Church and was a member and past master of Harmony Lodge 38, A.F. and A.M., Gorham, Me.

He is survived by his wife, Clare F. (Harlow) Taylor; also three nieces.

The funeral was held Tuesday, with services at 11 a.m. at the Kenneth H. Pollard Funeral Home, Methuen. The Rev. D. Frank Hayden, assistant at Christ Church, officiated.

Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

ALBERT RUHL

Albert Ruhl, 92, for many years a resident of Andover, died Monday following a long illness.

He was born in Bennington, Vt. and lived here for 54 years. A printer before his retirement, Mr. Ruhl had been employed by the Andover Press. He attended South Congregational Church and was a member of Doric Masonic Lodge, Tilton, N. H.

He leaves a daughter, Dorothy, wife of James J. Doyle of Andover; and a son, Malcolm J. Ruhl of Andover.

Cremation will take place in Harmony Grove, Salem, and graveside services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. in West Parish Cemetery. The Rev. Frank D. Hayden, assistant at Christ Episcopal Church, will officiate.

Moved Here

From Reading

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley M. Burnham and children, Nancy 13 and Bobby 6, have recently moved to Andover from Reading.

Mr. Burnham is employed at Avco/Rad in Wilmington. The new home is on Sheriden rd., one of the streets in the Wildwood development.

Perocchi Named By Governor

Atty. Paul J. Perocchi, 48, 144 Chestnut st., has been nominated by Gov. Endicott Peabody as special justice of the Lawrence District Court.

Atty. Perocchi has been serving as a member of the U. S. Post Office Department six-member Advisory Committee, having been appointed to that position by President John F. Kennedy.

A graduate of Suffolk University Law School in 1939, Atty. Perocchi has law offices in Lawrence. He holds his Master's Degree in Administrative Law from Suffolk University, and served as chairman of the Board of Appeals in Methuen from 1953 to 1961.

He enlisted in the Air Corps in 1941, and served as an investigator in the office of the Judge Advocate, and later as an aerial gunner.

He is a past president of the Lawrence Bar Association and served on the executive board of that organization for six years.

Homemakers Had Day-Long Outing
Last Wednesday, Aug. 7, members of the Suburban Homemakers enjoyed an all-day outing at the summer home of Mrs. Oscar Hall in Epping, N. H.

Each member carried a Picnic Lunch, but dessert and coffee were served by the hostess. Those who enjoyed the hospitality were Mrs. Albert Walker, Mrs. Luis Salazar, Mrs. Franklin Ellis, Mrs. G. R. Abbott, Mrs. Henry James, Mrs. Owen Hinckley and Mrs. Hall.

Lawrence Paolino of Lovejoy rd. is taking an Orientation course at the University of Massachusetts during the present week. He will attend the college in September.

YOUR Pharmacist SPEAKS

by: Paul Upson, R. Ph.
The rather loose usage of late of the term "virus" leads some people to believe that a virus is a rather new and always mysterious malady. Actually, all of us are virtual incubators of viruses for most of our lives.

From the common cold and cold sores to mumps, measles and chickenpox we have all been attacked by and have recovered from, viruses. There are other infinitely more deadly viruses, however, such as polio and sleeping sickness and, strangely, even animals, insects and plant life are subject to attack from viruses peculiarly their own.

Not so strangely, SHAWSHEEN PHARMACY should be your first stop for drugs and medicines of all types. Our prescription service is dedicated to the safeguarding of your health and well being. For your prescription needs, remember SHAWSHEEN PHARMACY, Shawsheen Square. Phone 475-2590 for free prescription delivery.

author of a number of significant books including the recent "The Great Ascent; the Struggle for Economic Development in Our Time". Each pamphlet in the series, designed to introduce readers to important subject fields, includes a brief essay followed by a list of significant books in each area. Previously published are "Space Science", by Ralph E. Lapp; "The Contemporary Arts", by Bartlett H. Hayes, Jr.; "Freedom of the Mind", by William O. Douglas; and "Expanding Population in a Shrinking World", by Marston Bates.

It was announced at the American Library Association Conference in Chicago in July that the Carnegie Corporation has renewed its grant so that there will be five more reading guides coming out in the near future.

John Horne Burns

A John Horne Burns admirer has arranged an exhibit of his books and magazine articles at the library. "The Gallery" is represented not only in its American edition but in the French edition as "On Meurt Toujours Seul", in the German, "Etappe Napoli" and in the Italian, "La Galleria". It will be remembered that Mr. Burns grew up in Andover and up to World War II often returned during summer vacations.

On Vacation

On vacation from the library is Assistant Librarian, Margaret Manning, who so ably edits the Townsman library column during most of the year.

Useful Handbook

The 1963-'64 edition of "Educational Opportunities of Greater Boston for Adults" is now available for consultation at the library. Compiled by the Prospect Union Education Exchange, Cambridge, this useful handbook lists 4700 separate courses, academic and practical.

on the map is called County rd. in the street list, and there seems to be a proposed street in Ballard Vale named County rd.

It does seem a bit much to have a River rd., a Riverina rd. and a River st. Surely there are other names available? There is Woods rd. for instance which not so long ago was printed on the map in the place now occupied by the southerly piece of Sunset Rock rd. where it joins Rattlesnake Hill and County (or Old County) roads.

Pity the Post Office workers who have to unsnarl addresses!

HOOD NAMED BY BOSTON UNIVERSITY

Sixty-five new faculty members, including three from England and Greece, have been appointed at Boston University for the 1963-64 academic year, according to an announcement by President Harold C. Case of the University.

Included at the College of Liberal Arts, is C. Gregory Hood of Andover, instructor.

Wedding...

ZOBEL - TERRIO

A reception at the Andover Inn followed the wedding of Miss Priscilla Ann Terrio, 4 Otis pl., Boston, to Lt. Robert Jackson Zobel, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James A. Zobel of Birmingham, Ala.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Terrio of Baltimore, Md., formerly of Andover. The Rev. James A. Wenzel, O.S.A., officiated at the 3:30 p.m. ceremony July 28 in St. Augustine's Church.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Her gown of white silk organza had elbow length sleeves and a circlet neckline. It featured three-dimensional embroidery around the waistline, the bell-shaped skirt and chapel train. Touches of blue accented the roses in the embroidery. Her veil was attached to a rose headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white sweetheart roses and blue stephanotis.

The maid of honor and cousin of the bride, Miss Marcia Eileen Cuddy of Methuen, wore a floor-length empire sheath of blue pique gathered in the back with a blue satin cummerbund. A veil was attached to her blue satin bow headpiece, and her cascade bouquet featured daisies and ivy.

Identically gowned and carrying cascades of daisies and ivy were the bridesmaids, Miss Susan McCandless of Boston and Mrs. Donald T. Burg of New Brunswick, N.J.

Serving as best man was Lt. Weldon A. Lee, Ushers included Walter A. Terrio, uncle of the bride, and Harry Butcher of Huntsville, Ala.

The bride is a graduate of Andover High School and was graduated in 1962 from Mt. Holyoke College. She taught French and English in the Reading school system this past year, and will teach high school French in Hadley in September.

Mr. Zobel attended Auburn University and is stationed at Westover Air Force Base in Chicopee.

Guests from New York, New Jersey, Alabama, New Hampshire, Maryland, Cambridge and Boston were present at the reception. The new residence is at 136 College st., South Hadley.

Engagement

Carlson - Darveau

Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Darveau, 310 Pleasant st., North Andover, announce the engagement of their daughter, Louise Marie, to Rolf A. Carlson, 41 1/2 Ridge st. The wedding will take place at St. Michael's Church, North Andover.

Andover, Oct. 11, at 7 p.m. A reception will be held at the Shawshen Manor immediately following the ceremony.

Births...

DELNICKAS - A daughter, Jodi Lynne, Aug. 6, at Fort Dix Hospital, to Ensign and Mrs. Thomas Delnickas, 321 Larch rd., Rancocas Wood, N.J. The mother was Sandra Ritchie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Ritchie Jr., 174 Lowell st. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Delnickas of Westfield.

DURANT - A son, Aug. 7, at Lawrence General Hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. George Durant, 26 Washington ave. The mother was Delight Wilson.

STEINMETZ - A son, Ronald Roy, Aug. 8, at Lawrence General Hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Steinmetz, 5 Washington ave. The mother was Shirley Graham.

BAILEY - A son, Aug. 10, at Lawrence General Hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Bailey, 3 Foster Pond rd. The mother was Diana Wright.

FARNHAM - A daughter, Aug. 10, at Lawrence General Hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farnham, 122 Chestnut st. The mother was Beverly Tenney.

RECRUIT TRAINING

Warren R. Naylor, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Naylor, 7 Argyle st., is undergoing recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The nine-week indoctrination to Navy life gives the new recruit a background in seamanship, discipline, damage control, fire-fighting, gunnery, naval customs and courtesies, first aid, swimming and survival.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Margaret MacKinnon of Melrose was recently the guest of Mrs. John Mundy of Andover st. Robert Brown of Center st. spent last weekend with friends on the Cape.

Mrs. Charles Climo and daughter, Allison, of Wakefield were recently visiting Mrs. Jane Lowry and Mollie Donovan.

No Representatives Attend Meeting

With sarcastic comments that "they got off to a fine start", the Board of Selectmen read into its records Monday night a letter from the Lawrence Gas Co., promising to have a representative at each meeting when Gas Co. installations are discussed.

There was no one at the meeting from the firm, although requests were heard from the company, relating to opening streets.

The Selectmen had asked that a person be sent to the meetings, each time a request is to be considered, so that any pertinent information can be supplied. With considerable frequency, the local company asks permission to open up streets, either for new services or to repair older ones. The Board has frequently commented on the need for strict controls over back-filling operations, so that the streets will not be in poor condition at a later date.

Mrs. Margaret Little of Shawshen rd. has returned to her home, after enjoying a vacation at her summer home at Isle au Haut, Me.

Activities At Playgrounds

Playground activities end this week, after a busy, hot-weather season.

During the past week, however, activities at the various grounds have been continuing at a fast pace. Central has several events to report:

Fishing derby - most fish caught, Brenda Piscaldo, Daniel and David Morin; biggest fish, Robert Piscaldo, Brenda Piscaldo and Tom Lawson.

Funny face contest - children made funny faces on the back of paper plates, using construction paper, cloth and paint. Winners were Joan McDonald, Judi Tice and Heidi O'Connell.

On Wheels parade - most original, David Gugliotti, first; Peter Gugliotti, second and Tommy Marbles, third.

Prettiest, Mike Galvin, K. Nipe and Ann McAtamney; decorations, Julie Galvin, Bill Marky, Joan McDonald and Jack McDonald.

Junior leaders for the week were Rick McAtamney, Ann Marie McAtamney and Ann Lamb.

At Ballardvale, softball has been a main feature, with mothers playing daughters, fathers vs sons and mothers vs fathers.

The special event last week was the Parade on Wheels, with these results: most original, David Netti and John Hughes, Russell St. Armand and Roger St. Armand; prettiest, Bobby Driscoll, Bobbi Popadac and Raymond St. Armand.

Most artistic - Robby St. Armand, Randy St. Armand and Rodman St. Armand; most patriotic, Lisa Taconi and Richie St. Armand, Scott Gerrish, and, third, Lynn Gerrish.

The best of show went to Richard St. Armand.

Shawshen held a hat show, with these winners:

Prettiest, Katherine Evans, Janice Fair and Nancy Maloney; most creative, Kevin Homewood, Elizabeth Dennett and Mary Frances Wesolowski.

Funniest, Greg Winn, Elizabeth Carr and Cheryl Nigrelli; best conversation piece, Pamela Scherer, Thomas Wirtz and Elizabeth Evans.

Kevin Homewood won the best of show.

During the year, Shawshen has entertained guests from a number of neighboring towns, and also from places far away from Andover. The guest book shows entries from the Panama Canal Zone, Iowa, New York, Florida and Pennsylvania.

The parade on wheels at Ballardvale playground last week produced these winners:

Most original, Betty Ann Brewster, Kathleen Sweeney and Janice Guera; most unusual, Daniel Dufault, Linda Auchterlonie and Cathleen Lynch.

A pet show was held at West Center, with the following results:

Dogs, Betsy Kearns, Sharon Coppetta and Jane Shepherd; cats, Guy Nicolosi, Louisa Kearns.

Honorable mention, for their entries, went to Phyllis Politz and Mary Ellen Kearns.

Judges were Mary Doherty, David DiPrima and David Santuccio.

Mottolo Will Be At Fair
In keeping with the theme of the year, "Youth on Parade", the management of the Topsfield Fair announces that Richard Mottolo of Andover, vice president of North Region of Future Farmers of America, will participate in opening ceremonies Sunday, Sept. 1. During the past 35 years, since inception of FFA, membership has increased to 387,000, including 100 chapters. All members are students of vocational agricultural courses, of which membership is mandatory.

Kenneth E. Silvery of Saugus, County Chapter president, also will present at opening ceremonies the 139th renewal of Topsfield Fair, Sept. 6. Future Farmers of America will present a special program designed to show their agricultural abilities.

Wennik Flew to Germany
Joseph B. Wennik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Wennik, 14 Aceme dr., flew to Germany last Saturday to join his wife and one-day-old son, Stefan Timothy. The family is living in Kassel, Germany.

Mr. Wennik, will study in Germany for a year, under a Fulbright Scholarship. He has been for the past three years, teaching English and German at the Holderness School. He was head baseball coach there, and assisted in football and hockey.

Endorse Bill For Extra Funds

The Selectmen have endorsed Senate Bill 537, which would result in more money coming to the town for library purposes.

Their vote will be sent to local representatives and state senator.

The bill, by placing grants-in-aid in the general fund, would result in $3,886.74 coming to the town from state proceeds from income taxes, and would be for the unrestricted use of the community.

Action came on request of the Mass. Library Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Oldaker of Wild Rose dr. have returned to their home after enjoying a vacation at Wells Beach, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lewis of Lowell st. spent Sunday with friends at York Beach, Me.

Bandits Entered 2 Local Homes

 Brazen bandits invaded two local homes in broad daylight Aug.
 according to police reports.

 The homes of Charles B. Cornell, 66 Porter rd., and H. Oscar Witten, 9 Stinson rd., were entered in the late afternoon a week ago today. Sgt. Robert Deymond has been investigating the cases.

 Police said the Cornell home was entered through a window facing the street, even though there was plenty of light and visibility should anyone have been watching.

 Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Broadbent and their three children

Townpeople Express Many Opinions On Government

Residents of the town have a variety of opinions about their town government - and not all of them are good.

At the second session of the Committee to Study the Charter - held last Thursday evening - members reported on their interviews with other citizens of the town. It was stressed that the opinions presented were not those of the members, but merely reflected the thinking of persons they interviewed.

Most predominant among the opinions related were the twin comments:

The manager should be more firm, stronger. And, the Selectmen meddle in administration too much.

A strong overtone of worry could be sensed, as report after report listed taxes as a strong factor in the residents' thinking. Many praised the Finance Committee for helping keep the rate stable; some are concerned that taxes will keep going up, without end.

The School Committee came in for criticism and suggestions were made that the town manager take over non-educational functions, or serve on the Committee, or that town meeting cut the budget and let the School Committee go to court for their funds.

Concern is felt about appointments to town boards - those interviewed felt that the Selectmen should play a more vital role in this function - the charter says the manager appoints and the Selectmen approve.

There was little sentiment for a drastic change from the manager charter - one or two persons apparently felt that an executive secretary would be better but most appear to favor retention of the charter.

Some comments indicated the thought that most departments functioned properly before the change to manager, and are still doing well.

Others feel that the present administration is better, more efficient.

Some residents feel that interest suffers when so few names are on the ballot, and when people don't even know who the appointed officials are, anymore.

Central purchasing isn't working was one comment - vouchers for expenditures over $15, and up to $500, are required - but each department buys independently as it did prior to the change.

Complaints were heard about the recreation department.

The method of setting employees' pay was commented upon - some feel the manager should not have this ultimate power; others believe he is subject to too great pressure from the town employees because he is one man against many.

The transfer of funds within departments, and payments by one department of expenditures by another, were criticized, because there's no way to tell what the real expenditures of each department are, at the year's end.

There were contradictory reports regarding the ability to get quick and definite answers at town hall - some believe residents can now get positive answers quickly; others think there is a considerable delay in obtaining answers.

Old vs New
The old town manager vs Selectmen argument reared its head during the meeting. One or two comments about improved facilities or procedures now brought heated comments from former town officials, in defense of their conduct of the town's business.

In general, there seems to be some feeling that the Committee should look at the town prior to town manager and compare structure and costs with the present. Others believe only the present should be studied, in terms of how the charter is being carried out in practice.

Appointment of sub-committees was delayed because of this discussion, and members agreed to review the charter itself, in terms of the reports given, before making up their minds.

Received Wings As Stewardess

MISS SANDRA HENDERSON

Miss Sandra Henderson was recently honored at a luncheon held at the Thunderbird Motel in Minneapolis, when she was awarded her stewardess wings with Northwest Airlines after having completed five weeks of training at the airline's stewardess training school.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Henderson, 60 Abbey Court, Ramsey, N. J.

Miss Henderson is a graduate of Andover High School and has attended Sullins College and the University of Tennessee.

In her new career she will be based at the airline's home base in Minneapolis St. Paul.

PERSONALS

COTTON CLINIC

- Whites come white, colors stay bright.
- Trim and drape jaunty as new.
- Exclusive Sanitone Style-Set® finish keeps fabric tissue-crisp.
- No home-ironed shine, no starchy stiffness.

Yes, your best cottons deserve this complete professional fabric care... it's so much more than just drycleaning.
